

— METHOD

Your AI pilot needs a control group

SWIPE ►

— WHY IT WORKS

Baseline before you start

Log how long the workflow actually takes today, in hours, before anyone touches the new tool. That number is your baseline, not a guess from memory.

— WHY IT WORKS

Run it both ways

Where you can, keep part of the team on the existing process while another uses the tool on the same kind of task, for a few weeks.

— WHY IT WORKS

Memory is not data

People misjudge how long routine work used to take. A logged baseline catches that a feeling never will.

Would you accept this test from a vendor?

If a vendor handed you results with no baseline and no control group, you would push back. Hold your own pilot to the same standard.

Full breakdown at the link in bio.

